UX7000

Fully Reconditioned

The UX-7000 Hospitality Management System is designed to meet the EPOS requirements of the hospitality and leisure markets. By providing greater efficiency at the point of sale combined with enhanced management reporting, the UX-7000 system can provide operators with the cutting edge required in today's highly competitive and fast moving markets.

A complete family of screen based terminals can be configured to operate either individually, or as part of a multi-terminal network, catering for the specific requirements of bars, pubs, night-clubs, hotels, restaurants, fast-food and leisure complexes. The UX-7000 terminals together with a comprehensive choice of options and peripherals provides operators with the basis for a total, fully integrated and flexible hospitality management system.

Available with a choice of high speed internal thermal printers - either wide receipt or two station receipt and audit. There is also a printer less 'keystation' model available which is ideal where a smaller footprint is required.

Key Features

Menu Buttons

For operators with large or complicated menus, individual buttons can be set-up to display a list of items for selection. Buttons could be set-up for starters, main courses and desserts for example. The set menu function caters for fixed price meals with a choice of courses.

Intelligent Prompting

Intelligent prompting and sub menus lead operators through transactions ensuring a speedy and accurate registration of orders. For example the registration of a steak order will automatically prompt for cooking instructions rare, medium etc. and any associated side orders.

Flexible Billing System

Designed to be configurable the system can handle bar tabs & table numbers, rooms, split billing and table transfers.

Kitchen Control

Automatic transmission of food and drink orders, together with preparation instructions to kitchen and dispense areas.
